

FRIDAY SCHOOL

a welfare project of
Institute for Community Development (ICD)

Mission:

ICD Friday School mission is focused on providing basic Islamic knowledge and values to our children with a strong hope that Muslim children grow up with some understanding of their religious values and beliefs. Young children are very eager to learn about their true identity: they have an innate craving for Islamic Education. Since we get to meet our children only once in a week, it is not possible for us to cover different aspect of Islam but we will try to give them brief idea about Islam, Hifzul Qur'an and Ibadah.

Our Goals:

- We want our children to recite the Qur'an correctly
- We want our children to be the true and practicing believers of Islam with the proper knowledge of the teachings of Islam
- We want our children to develop character, better manners, and a respectful demeanor
- We want our children to represent Islam and be able to relate to Islamic beliefs and teachings to the society in a coherent way

A Brief Description of Friday School

Class mode:

The classes will be held online (via Google Meet). It is the responsibility of the parents to make the proper arrangements for online classes.

Students and teachers are at the school for one basic goal: to promote the Islamic educational development of the students. To accomplish this goal each student is expected to:

- Join the online class on time
- Dress modestly and in an Islamic manner
- Females should cover themselves except their face, hands and feet
- While female teachers would take class, male parents should not be around.
